

The Connections of Mircea the Elder with Banat

Fr. PhD CONSTANTIN CILIBIA,

Abstract

Since the beginning of its formation, the Romanian nation was organized in village. The Banat of Severin, entitled like that after 1230, it will be ruled by Mircea the Elder, the rule of the Romanian Country. In this historical article, we explore the implications during the reign of Mircea the Elder and its connection with the region called Banat. In the same time, we present the ecclesiastical realities and a few details about the Metropolitan of Severin.