

Education and Transdisciplinarity. From Loneliness of Today to the Singularity of Tomorrow

ALEXANDRU JIANU,
MARIA-MAGDALENA JIANU,
Universitatea „Constantin Brâncuși” Tg-Jiu,

Abstract

The present situation of the education reveals, no matter of place, the need for another approach to the problems. In this context, changing the paradigm by involving transdisciplinarity throughout the educational process can be an optimal solution for correcting a present taht can no longer meet the challenges and the preparation of a future that seems to be artificial intelligence. In this study, we explore this filed and explain what are the needs for an expected changing of the tradition paradigm of the humanity.