

Jesus Christ, the Authentic Model of Inculturation

Fr. MARIAN GROZOIU,
University of Craiova,

Abstract

Each culture contains moral values and appropriate teachings, which represent the result of a universal revelation that the Word of God enculturated, in accordance with His plan, having as purpose the finding of God. The Christian Gospel makes complete, accomplishes and ennoble the religious experience of each individual on earth. For this reason, culture must be taken seriously because it gives us the possibility to get involved in a process of the profound and open dialogue, with God. In this article we will focus on the relationship between worship, community and mission, which are fundamental dimensions for our Church, everything in connection with Christ, the Son of God, the authentic model of inculturation.